PQMD is a one-of-a-kind alliance where leading experts in the field of medical donations, disaster response and humanitarian assistance come together as practitioners - not competitors - working collectively to tackle healthcare access challenges and seize opportunities for impact.

Established 25 years ago with the mandate to issue donation guidelines, PQMD has emerged as a true pioneer in public-private partnerships, championing and promoting sustainable access to quality health care in underserved communities and populations in crisis.

Benefits of Membership

- Access to a trusted network of members including the world's leading pharma companies and medical product manufacturers and their INGO partners who deliver health products and services globally
- Invitations to global gatherings including our Annual Global Health Policy Forum and members-only Collaboration & Learning Forum
- Opportunity to engage in virtual and in-person "Pillar Talk" webinars, workshops, and training courses featuring expert-led conversations on hot topics, industry challenges and trends
- Members-only access to discussions, critical resources and benchmarking data on our Community of Practice
- "Always-available," online impact measurement tools and resources
- Connection opportunities with structured and casual networking, member interest groups, working groups, and committees

In today's challenging environment, where it's increasingly difficult to navigate the global health & development space, it's not a matter of whether to join PQMD, it's a matter of when.

"PQMD offers a cost-effective way to gain critical insights and actionable information that helps my team make informed decisions when responding to global humanitarian disasters and crises."
